

I understand that new LPFM stations may be given priority over FM translator services. I am opposed to this. I hear many radio stations via translator stations, including K-LOVE. With all the crass material on many commercial radio stations, I find that my only two safe choices are public radio and Christian radio. I listen to KLOVE everyday, and enjoy their perspective that isn't too right wing, as some Christian radio stations seem to be. As parents, we are all trying to raise our children with high moral values - values that aren't readily demonstrated in the media today. K-LOVE is a station that is positive, encouraging, up-beat and contemporary. It appeals to all ages, and encourages individuals who might feel terribly alone. Please don't allow LPFM stations to take priority over current FM translator services. The loss to me, my family and our community would be widespread, and irreplaceable.

Thank you for listening.
